

Fort McKay Group of Companies

The Fort McKay Group of Companies is comprised of six limited partnerships. Fort McKay Group of Companies are owned and operated by the Fort McKay First Nation and

The Fort McKay Group of Companies has certainly grown from its humble beginnings in 1986 when we had a single janitorial contract. Our operations now includes longer-term contract services in heavy equipment operation, labour, fuel and lube services, mailroom, parcel delivery supply chain operations, and environmental services. The Group of Companies has grown into a financially stable, multi-million dollar operation.

FMGC serves a number of corporate clients in north-eastern Alberta; from the oil sands, pipelines, and forestry industries, to the public sector. We are currently examining opportunities to expand our business horizons and operating areas.

The Group of Companies is managed by a team of qualified, experienced, and entrepreneurial managers led by our current CEO - Fredrick McDonald. We are governed by a Board of Directors that is comprised of both residents of Fort McKay and members from outside business community.

As we grow, we strive to uphold the highest of safety and service standards while still adhering to traditional aboriginal values. This means that we work to provide for the betterment of our employees and our community while still maintaining a fair profit and protecting our ancestral lands.

One of the keys to our success is diversification. We have grown our business in the areas of Property Management, Environmental Services, Bulk Fuel station & delivery, Logistics & Warehouse Services, General Contracting and Earth Moving.

We have built a strong relationship with industry that revolves around a mutual understanding. This understanding is vital to maintaining a balance between cultural, environmental and economic responsibilities. We believe that continuing to strengthen these relationships will in turn strengthen the Fort McKay Group of Companies.
